Jason's Journal

“For I received from the Lord what I also handed on to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took a loaf of bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, ‘This is my body that is for you. Do this in remembrance of me.’ In the same way he took the cup also, after supper, saying, ‘This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me.’ For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord’s death until he comes.”

1 Corinthians 11:23-26

For as long as I can remember, I have always enjoyed receiving the sacrament of Holy Communion. Even when I was not a follower of Jesus, there was always something special about receiving the bread and dipping it into the cup. In retrospect, I believe that while I was not a follower of Jesus and receiving Holy Communion, participating in the sacrament was an example of God’s grace drawing me closer to being in relationship with God. As I have already mentioned, Holy Communion is a sacrament; a sacrament is an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace. Holy Communion was instituted by Jesus. The sacrament itself is a genuine celebration that involves the solemn, thankful remembrance of Christ’s death and of the new covenant Jesus initiated. In addition, Holy Communion proclaims the Lord’s death for all people and the anticipation of his second coming.

I remember when I was younger, prior to becoming United Methodist, I heard preachers say that children could not come to the table because they were too young to understand. As I think back on that teaching, I now believe that if we waited until we understood what happens at Christ’s table when we come to it, then none of us would ever accept Christ’s invitation. While denominations differ on the understanding of what happens at Christ’s table, John Wesley founder of the Methodist movement, taught that while none of us can fully understand what happens we believe Christ is really present at His table and it is all a holy mystery.

I share all of this with us this month because Sunday, October 4th is World Communion Sunday. Each year in the liturgical calendar the first Sunday of October is World Communion Sunday. To me, this is a beautiful image to reflect upon, that on October 4th, 2026 as we at St. Mark UMC celebrate the sacrament of Holy Communion, and so will millions of others around the world be celebrating Christ saving work for all people. As this new month begins and we prepare to celebrate again the sacrament of Holy Communion, I pray that we receive and experience the grace of Jesus that renews, refreshes, and frees us for joyful obedience in our lives so that we may proclaim Jesus to all the world.

Hello St. Mark Family!

Recently, Jack and I went to a Gamecock football game, and before the game we made our way over to watch Gamecock Walk. If you have never experienced it, the players and coaches walk from the practice facility to the stadium while fans line both sides of the walkway cheering them on. It is one of those great college football traditions. You might get a high five from a player or coach as they pass, but for the most part, they are focused. They have a game to play, and for them, this is a business trip. We got there early that day and found a spot along the walkway. While we were waiting, a lady walked up beside us and told us that we were standing near her normal spot. She laughed and said, "I hope you don't mind if I get loud and scream!" Then she told me that her name was Anita and that she worked at the university and cooked for the football team. I told her how cool I thought that was, and we kept talking as we waited for the team to arrive.

Eventually, we heard the cheers getting louder. The team was coming. What happened next caught me completely by surprise. Almost every player and coach who came down that walkway stopped when they got to Anita. They hugged her. They smiled. They spoke to her. Some of them went out of their way just to make sure they got to her. Remember, these guys were on their way to play a football game. They were focused. They had somewhere to be. But they weren't too focused or too busy to stop for Anita. Standing there watching it happen, I realized something. Anita must make these young men feel incredibly special every single day. I don't know everything Anita does for them. I don't know all the conversations she has with them or all the ways she encourages them. But I didn't have to know. I could see the evidence walking right past me. Whatever she had poured into them throughout the week was coming back in hugs, smiles, and moments of appreciation.

It made me think about a question that all of us should probably ask ourselves from time to time; how do people feel after they have been around me? Paul writes in Ephesians 4:32, "Be kind and compassionate. Graciously forgive one another just as God has forgiven you through the Anointed, our Liberating King." Kindness sounds simple, but it can be incredibly powerful. A kind word can change someone's day. A moment of encouragement can remind someone that they matter. Taking the time to listen can tell someone they are worth our time. A smile, a hug, a phone call, or simply remembering someone's name can leave an impact far beyond what we ever realize.

Jesus consistently showed us this kind of life. He noticed people others walked past. He stopped for people when everyone else wanted Him to keep moving. He spoke to people others ignored. He touched people others avoided. Again and again, Jesus demonstrated that loving people begins with seeing people. We live in a world where it is incredibly easy to choose something other than kindness. We can be quick with our words, impatient with one another, and so busy getting to the next thing that we forget about the person standing right in front of us. But as followers of Jesus, we are called to something different.

Colossians 3:12 tells us to "clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience." So maybe this month we can all be a little more like Anita. Choose kindness in our words. Choose kindness in our actions. Choose kindness in the way we care for people. Choose to notice people, encourage people, and remind them that they matter. Because we may never fully know the impact we have on another person's life. Then again, every once in a while, we might get the privilege of standing along a walkway and watching the evidence come walking toward us.

I hope you have an amazing month and I look forward to seeing YOU at CHURCH! BRING A FRIEND!

OCTOBER PREACHING SCHEDULE AND SCRIPTURE

This month, Robby and I are looking forward to our sermon series, The Living Church. We will journey together through some stories from the book of Acts, which tells us some of the stories when the church began over 2000 years ago. Please take note that Sunday, October 18th is Children's Sabbath and on that Sunday we will have two services only so that both Robby and I may participate at both campuses for Children's Sabbath. October 18th we will have our traditional service at 8:45AM only at the Bypass Campus, and then our contemporary service at 11:15AM only at the Rivers Street Campus. We look forward to seeing you all this month. Invite someone to join you in worship.

BRIDGE KIDS

KREW OCTOBER

KREW will be on intercession break October 4!

It's not too late to be a part of KREW! KREW is our Sunday afternoon children's ministry, and it really lives up to its name - Kids Really Excited about Worship! Our KREW children are divided into two groups. KREWKATEERS are K2-K5, and KREW KIDS are 1st-5th graders. Both groups start out together for worship, and then we break into two groups, allowing children to learn and experience Biblical truths in an age-appropriate setting!
Ages K2-5th grade.
Sundays, 4:30-6:00.
Register today at www.stmarkbridgekids.com

People are wonderful, not because of anything we have done, but because of Who made us - because of Whose image we were made in. God is wonderful! And we were made in God's wonderful image, by our wonderful God! So every person we see, including you and me, is someone God made wonderful!

The quest for God's kingdom begins with knowing the King, Jesus. When we choose to follow Jesus and learn to know Him more, we are given the amazing mission of helping to grow God's kingdom through the power of the Holy Spirit. It can start with the smallest thing—one choice, a kind word, an offer of help—and grow into something far bigger and more amazing than we can imagine.

KREW will not meet Sunday, October 25, because we recognize the importance of family time! All of our KREW children and families, along with everyone else, is invited to our annual Fall Festival! Join us at the Bypass Campus for an old fashioned evening of fun, friendship, and fellowship!

FREE FAMILY MOVIE NIGHT FOR EVERYONE!

All children are invited to come with their parents for a family movie night October 8th at the pumpkin patch! The movie, The Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown, will start at 7:00, and popcorn and snacks will be provided! Bring your lawn chairs or blankets, and come spend an evening with your family and your church family!

At St. Mark UMC, we celebrate the blessings that our babies and children are every single day, but once a year, they get their own day! Join us on October 18 (8:45 at the Bypass Campus and 11:15 at the Rivers Street Campus) as our children help lead the services, our third graders are presented with Bibles, and our newest babies are honored by their church and parents with our traditional baby frames. If you'd like your child to participate, contact Julie today.

EPIC STUDENT MINISTRY

WWW.STMARKEPIC.COM

EPIC IS A CHRIST-CENTERED MINISTRY FOR STUDENTS IN GRADES 6-12. EPIC MEETS FROM 6:15-8:00. ALL YOUTH ARE INVITED! BRING A FRIEND! WE CAN'T WAIT TO SEE YOU AT EPIC!

October 11: In James 3:3-12, James reminds us that our words may seem small, but they have incredible power. Like a bit that directs a horse or a tiny rudder that steers a large ship, what we say can shape relationships, influence others, and change the direction of a situation. Our words can encourage, heal, and build people up—or, like a small spark that starts a huge fire, they can cause lasting hurt and damage. James also challenges us to recognize the contradiction of using the same mouth to praise God and tear down people who are made in God's image. Ultimately, our words are more than something we need to learn to control; they reveal what is happening inside us. When our hearts are being shaped by Jesus, that transformation should begin to show in the way we speak to and about others. Our words reveal what's happening in our hearts.

EPIC WILL BE ON INTERSESSION BREAK OCTOBER 4!

In the Campfire Stories series, students will discover what it really means to trust God in every part of life. Through the stories of Moses, the Israelites, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, the early church, and others, they'll see that God calls us even when we feel unqualified, leads us when we can't see what's ahead, stands with us when life gets difficult, and empowers us through the Holy Spirit. Trusting God doesn't mean we'll always know the plan or how things will turn out—it means choosing to say "yes," take the next step, lean on Him through the fire, and allow His Spirit to work in and through us. Wherever God calls us and wherever He leads us, we can trust that He will be with us and give us what we need.
